Overview

Hello! I am Joey, a 31-year-old frontend web developer from Amsterdam, the Netherlands. In 2017 I discovered coding and after extensive home studies, I officially joined the development industry at the start of 2018. I have since been professionally developing websites, focusing on React.js, Node.js and GraphQL.

With 3 years of working experience, React.js is my main strength - but in my spare time, Unity and C# take over. Coding games is just as fun!

I will soon be moving to Barcelona after living in Stockholm, Sweden for the past four years. I'm looking for a fresh new challenge at a company that champions their team spirit as much as their product. I enjoy working with other crafts, collaborating daily with UI/UX, QA and backend developers. I'm always open to feedback and new ideas and can handle stress very well. I am organised, make quick decisions and I can lead a group when I need to.
